

Part 91 Changes for February 2026 and What Central Florida Pilots Need to Know

Event Details

Central Florida is not a typical GA environment. We operate inside a complex mix of airline traffic, extensive training activity, and a rising volume of UAS operations. Add in the proximity of Cape Canaveral — which generates some of the most frequent TFR activity in the country — and you have a region where NOTAM literacy is essential.

Pilots attending this event will gain tools for safer and more efficient operations and will leave with current references, checklists, and links for continued study.
